5. TENANT'S RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL:

A. If at any time during the Lease Term Landlord determines to sell the Property, Landlord must first offer the right to purchase the Property to the Tenant at Fair Market Value in writing to the Tenant. Fair Market Value will be determined by an appraisal of the highest and best use of the Property by an MAI certified appraiser made at the time that notice is received by the Tenant as provided in this Paragraph. The Tenant shall pay for the appraisal. The Tenant must, not later than ninety (90) days after receiving the Landlord's written offer, send a fully executed contract to purchase the Property at Fair Market Value from the Landlord. Landlord shall be free to place the Property on the market for sale in the event (i) Tenant fails to deliver a purchase contract within the ninety (90) day period, or (ii) if Tenant notifies Landlord in writing that Tenant will not exercise its right to purchase the Property.

B. In the event that Landlord receives a bona fide written offer to purchase the Property from a third party, the Tenant shall have ninety (90) days after receipt of written notice from the Landlord offering to sell the Property to Tenant at the same terms and conditions as contained in such bona fide offer, to notify Landlord of Tenant's intent to purchase the Property. Landlord's offer to sell shall not be effective unless and until (i) Landlord gives written notice thereof to Tenant pursuant to Article 37 of the Lease, (ii) which written notice shall state the name and address of the proposed purchaser, and (iii) Landlord delivers to the Tenant a copy of the bona fide offer from proposed purchaser. Tenant shall have ninety (90) days from and after receipt thereof (the "Review Period") to decide whether or not to purchase the Property at such terms. The Parties understand that, during the Review Period, the Tenant shall conduct certain work activities that shall include, but will not be limited to, obtaining an independent real estate appraisal to confirm the proposed purchase price and seeking funding for the purchase of the Property. The Parties further understand that Tenant will utilize its best efforts while operating in good faith to provide an estimate to Landlord of whether or not it will pursue the purchase of the Property within thirty (30) days of entering the Review Period, such good faith estimate shall not be binding upon Tenant. If Tenant shall give notice of intent not to purchase or shall give no notice within the time herein stated, Landlord may accept such bona fide offer from proposed purchaser and proceed with the sale thereunder. If Tenant notifies Landlord that it elects to purchase the Property at such price, the Parties shall enter into a contract of purchase and sale.
